

March 4, 2019

Dear Dairy Cattle Enthusiasts,

Spring is here and many new, young 4-H and FFA members are beginning to work on their projects for the many upcoming fairs and shows. The Central Valley Jersey Breeders Club in conjunction with the Merced County Holstein Club is currently planning our 11th Annual Field Day! This event is a fun, interactive, and educational experience for young dairy enthusiasts to develop and increase their skills in working with and caring for their cattle. In the morning, participants learn in workshops and seminars, then are provided lunch, and a showmanship contest follows, giving them the opportunity to exhibit skills learned earlier in the day. Juniors have been able to learn from veterinarians, industry representatives, and local dairy farmers at no cost because of our generous supporters.

This year's event will be held on Saturday, April 6, 2019 at the Stanislaus County Fairgrounds, in Turlock, CA. Our past events have been attended by up to 100 youth. We are asking you to partner with our organizations by sponsoring our event. Our generous donors have allowed us to hold this event for the past 10 years educating youth, and equipping them to be good representatives for our industry when at fairs and shows. We have included an informational flyer outlining the program, schedule, and how to sign up for you to post or hand out.

Any donation amount will be greatly appreciated.

Thank you for your consideration!

Our sponsors are displayed and announced throughout the event.
